PROGRAM OVERVIEW The Denver Health Podiatric Medicine and Surgery Residency aims to advance the medical and surgical management of foot and ankle disorders by providing exceptional post-graduate education for podiatric physicians. Based at Denver Health; one of Colorado's leading teaching institutions, a level-I trauma center and safety-net hospital; this residency program offers an extremely rewarding and challenging educational environment. This is a PMSR/RRA residency program housed with the Department of Orthopedics at Denver Health Medical Center. Denver Health houses several residencies and fellowships and is a main teaching site for the University of Colorado School of Medicine. The program is affiliated with multiple major hospitals and surgery centers throughout the Denver metro area. There is a high-volume of forefoot, rearfoot, and ankle surgical experiences, with hands-on expos
